

CREWSEACURE

Kidnap and Ransom Insurance for the Shipping Industry

Why do you need CREWSEACURE?

Recent unprecedented piracy activity particularly off Somalia and within the Malacca Straits resulting in ships' crew being held for ransom has motivated Seacurus, a specialist marine insurance broker, to develop:

- CREWSEACURE, a dedicated Marine K&R policy of insurance

CREWSEACURE provides shipowners with access to established Lloyds of London K&R insurers and leading crisis response and marine intelligence consultants to the shipping industry.

This combined response team provides advisory assistance to both the Insurer and the Policyholder with regard to independent investigations, negotiations, arrangement and delivery of funds, and numerous other services vital to a safe, speedy and satisfactory resolution of a marine K&R incident.

What does CREWSEACURE cover?

Seacurus have recognised that the scope of cover must be precisely tailored to the demands of the shipping industry; CREWSEACURE covers the following (subject to policy limits):

- Reimbursement of the ransom plus accrued interest in full
- Indemnification of unlimited expenses for a team of highly experienced negotiators and crisis management personnel
- The cost of case related marine intelligence services
- The cost of reinstatement of replacement crew without delay

"Knowing is not enough; we must apply. Willing is not enough; we must do." Goethe

Securus (n) "one who promises to answer for the debt or default of another"

In addition, CREWSEACURE provides cover for the following:

- Informant money
- Legal fees
- Rest and rehabilitation
- Negotiation services
- Loss of ransom in transit
- Medical services and emergency evacuation
- PR, interpretive and forensic services
- Employee's salary continuation
- Personal financial losses
- Victim job retraining costs
- Communication and management costs

The policy will also cover any other reasonable and necessary expenses directly associated with an event of loss, as defined in the policy and subject to policy limits.
